

Fun in the Forest Colouring Sheet

Look who's having a party! Our friends in the forest are celebrating National Forest Week. They love the forest because it gives them so many wonderful things, like food, shelter and a beautiful place to live. The forest is important to people too. It gives us wood to build with and it creates jobs for people to work at. Best of all, forests are magical, fun-filled places to visit. National Forest Week is a good time to remember how special our forests are. Let's join our friends and celebrate.
